EIC Contribution on Industrial Technology of Communist China to SIC Study on Science and Technology in Communist China through 1970

Revisions to the EIC Contribution on Industrial Technology requested by EIC members were forwarded to the SIC. During early June, the SIC convened to review the draft Summary and Conclusions of the study. The responsible ORR analysts attended the SIC meeting and suggested a few changes in the draft Summary and Conclusions so that it would reflect the EIC submission.

A revised draft of the Summary and Conclusions and the consolidated changes in the Text will be prepared by the SIC. On 24 June, the responsible ORR analysts examined the revised drafts of the SIC paper which is in close accordance with the EIC contribution. We have no substantive difficulties. SIC paper is not yet published.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Membership

(Kize)

DIA is proposing Colonel Charles D. Kise, USA, as Chairman of the EIC Subcommittee on Transportation vice Capt. Raymond G. Hartman, USN, reassigned. In the past, this Subcommittee has been chaired by specialists in the field of transportation from the service (Army) and presently from DIA. Assuming no other nomination, request approval of Col. Kise as Chairman, effective 30 June 1965. Col. Kise has been assigned as Colonel, Transportation Corp., Army Attache, Copenhagen, Exchange Officer, British Transportation, ^{farrell} ^{chief} Long-range planning, Chief of Engineers, and Instructor at Transportation Training Center.

The Chairman recently was advised by the Deputy Director, Office of Emergency Planning, that the OEP has decided to withdraw associate membership on the EIC and its Subcommittee on Minerals and Metals (in response to the President's request that agencies review their participation in the work of interagency committees). The OEP does not believe that continued regular attendance is justifiable since most problems considered by the EIC and the Subcommittee do not directly concern the OEP. They will be glad to provide representatives on an ad hoc basis whenever direct participation is necessary.
